TikTok Account Warm-Up Playbook

The exact system to launchanewTikTokaccountsothe algorithm treats you like a real human — not a bot it needs to suppress.

WHY THIS EXISTS

TikTok removes millions of fake accounts every month. A fresh account with zero history looks suspicious by default. The warm-up process exists for one reason: to prove to the algorithm that you are a real person before you ask it to distribute your content.

Skip this and your first videos get suppressed before anyone sees them. Follow this and your account starts with algorithmic trust already built.

THE 3-PHASE OVERVIEW

PHASE	DURATION	GOAL
01 — Setup	Day 1	Look like a real human profile
02 — Warm-Up	Days 2–4	Train the algorithm on your niche
03 — First Posts	Day 5+	Post with warm-up ritual around every upload

PHASE 01 — SETUP

Build a Profile That Looks Human

Before you touch any content, your profile needs to pass the "is this a bot?" check. An incomplete profile signals a fake account and suppresses your reach from day one.

- ✓ Profile photo — Use a real face or a clean brand logo. No blank avatars.
- ✓ Bio — Write a short, niche-relevant bio. One sentence. No keyword stuffing.
- ✓ Link Instagram — Connect your Instagram in settings. Cross-platform signals build algorithm trust faster.
- ✓ Username — Match it to your brand. Consistency across platforms reinforces legitimacy.
- ✓ Build your warm-up list — Find 30–50 accounts in your niche — creators, brands, competitors. Follow them slowly over 2 days. No following sprees.

PHASE 02 — WARM-UP ENGAGEMENT

2–3 Days Before Your First Post

Do not post anything yet. Your only job is to behave like a real user so TikTok's algorithm learns your niche before your content enters the feed.

ACTION	HOW LONG	RULE
Scroll your FYP	15 min/day	Stay in your niche only. No cat videos.
Like videos	10–15 likes/day	Only niche-relevant content
Leave comments	3–5/day	Make them real. Observations, questions, reactions.
Save posts	2–3/day	Strong signal to algorithm: 'I value this content'

■ Critical: Never engage with content outside your niche during warm-up. If you're a fitness brand and you like a cooking video, you're confusing the algorithm about who you are.

PHASE 03 — FIRST POSTS

The Warm-Up + Cool-Down Ritual

Every time you post — especially your first 5 videos — wrap the upload with an engagement session. This signals you're a regular user, not an entity that only shows up to dump content.

BEFORE posting	AFTER posting
Spend 5–10 minutes on TikTok. Scroll, like 3–4 videos, leave 1 comment. Then open the app fresh and post.	Spend another 5–10 minutes engaging. Don't stare at your view count. Engage with others while your video gets pushed.

CONTENT STRUCTURE

The 4-Part Formula for Every Video

Once your account is warm, every video you post should follow this structure. This is what high-performing content does consistently across niches.

01 HOOK

First 3 seconds

Stop the scroll immediately. Ask a question, make a bold claim, show the result first. You have 3 seconds before they swipe away.

02 PROBLEM

Seconds 4–10

Name a pain your viewer actually feels. Be specific. "You're posting every day and still stuck at 200 views" lands harder than "content is hard."

03 SOLUTION

Seconds 10–40

Show your product, service, or insight as the answer. Make it feel earned, not pitched. The best TikToks feel like advice, not ads.

04 CTA

Final 5 seconds

One clear action. Follow, comment, click link in bio. Never ask for two things. The softer and more natural it sounds, the higher the conversion.

QUICK REFERENCE CHECKLIST

- Profile complete (photo, bio, Instagram linked)
- Warm-up list built: 30–50 niche accounts followed slowly
- 2–3 days of engagement before first post (15 min/day, niche only)
- 5–10 min warm-up session immediately before every post
- 5–10 min cool-down engagement immediately after every post
- First 5 videos follow Hook → Problem → Solution → CTA structure
- Zero engagement with off-niche content during first 2 weeks
